Founders Day Parade 29 May 1911
(Earl Roberts inspecting)

LL8696

7941

TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE

(For Address Only)

The Royal Hospital, Chelsea, a hostel or guest house for worthy veterans of the Army, who are prevented by old age, or disabilities contracted in the field, from earning a livelihood. Designed by and built under the supervision of Wren.

Founder's Day Parade, held on 29th May, the birthday of King Charles II, the founder of the Hospital. The statue of King Charles II is covered with oak leaves to commemorate the fact that King Charles hid in an oak at Boscobel, after the battle of Worcester.

Copyright, London
Printed in England
Raphael Tuck & Sons' "OILETTE" Postcard

CTPA12.9